

Executive Medicine of Texas Launches Sta Young, its Most Integrated Program Ever

Revolutionary Executive Medicine of Texas to extend its already specialized reach to busy executives.

Dallas, TX (PRWEB) July 9, 2008 -- Executive Medicine of Texas today launched Sta Young, its most integrated program ever and one of the many unparalleled, innovative services to support Executives who share a passion for business and their health.

"Sta Young is one of the best program's Executive Medicine of Texas has ever designed," said Dr. Walter Gaman. "Sta Young is a prime example of our commitment to deliver extraordinary innovation and personalized programs to Executives. Anticipating needs is a clear, on-going focus following our Executive Physicals. Executives have unique needs and unique health risks, further requiring the need for an unparalleled fitness program they can be motivated about, work towards and be excited about their progress, and that's exactly the next step we've created for them."

A year in length and complete with 24/7 direct access to your physician, the Sta Young program features several integrated tests in Joint Mobility & Stability, Postural Analysis, Movement Analysis, Submaximal and Maximal Aerobic Power, combined with over a dozen comprehensive fitness and laboratory tests reinforcing a powerful platform.
